About IALP

The International Association of Communication Sciences and Disorders (IALP) is the non-profit worldwide organization of professionals and scientists in communication, voice, speech language pathology, audiology and swallowing.

The organization, formerly known as International Association of Logopedics and Phoniatrics (IALP) was founded in 1924 by Emil Froeschels in Austria to foster collaboration of all professionals interested in logopedics and phoniatrics throughout the world.

Today, IALP is a global network of more than 300,000 Logopedists, Speech-Language Therapists/Pathologists, Audiologists, Clinical Linguists, ENTs and Phoniatricians in more than 40 countries across the globe.

Our Vision

We at IALP have a global vision to facilitate better understanding, knowledge and care of all those with communication and swallowing disorders.

Our Mission

To improve the quality of lives of individuals with disorders of communication, speech, language, voice, hearing and swallowing.

We strive to:

- Facilitate science, education, and clinical practice through international cooperation and collaboration
- Create and share knowledge, skills and information
- Provide a platform for international networking and advocacy

IALP Members

In an increasingly interconnected world, IALP plays a vital role in advancing global collaboration across our field. The international exchange of professional knowledge, research, and education is essential to developing and maintaining high-quality services and scientific progress in communication sciences and disorders.

IALP's membership comprises two primary categories: Individual Members and Affiliated Societies.

Individual and Student Members

Logopedists, Speech-Language Therapists, Pathologists, Audiologists, Clinical Linguists, ENTs, and Phoniatrians from around the world, along with organizations made up of individuals and societies from these professions can become a member. Whether involved in the study, prevention, diagnosis, or treatment of communication and related disorders, all are welcome to join the global IALP community.

Affiliated Societies

IALP actively promotes global cooperation by connecting professionals and fostering dialogue across nations. With 55 affiliated societies spanning 35 countries, including regions across Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe, North and South America, IALP represents a collective network of over 300,000 professionals worldwide.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion

A stronger, more inclusive global community

Exemplifying and embracing diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) is part of everything we do at IALP. We believe that inclusive collaboration leads to better science, better services and brighter future for all people with communication and swallowing disorders.

We understand that cultivating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive culture is essential to realizing our vision and mission to facilitate better understanding, knowledge and care for all.

We value diversity and celebrate the contributions of people of all backgrounds, across age, ethnicity, race, national origin, ability, learning style, religion, socioeconomic status, culture, marital status, languages spoken, sex, sexual orientation, and gender identity as well as differences in thoughts and ideas.

Recognizing that individuals from some groups have historically experienced barriers to service and participation, we are committed to advancing equity in all aspects of IALP.

We believe that all people hold visible and invisible qualities that inherently make them unique, and we strive to create an inclusive culture where each person knows they are valued and belong.

We are committed to being honest and transparent about where we are in our DEI journey as an organization, and to continuing to learn and do better.

Whether you are looking to build brand awareness, connect with speech-language-hearing professionals, or support global advocacy efforts, IALP offers unique and meaningful opportunities to engage with a dedicated audience of experts and decision-makers.

Sponsorship Opportunities

Membership Sponsorship Fund (MSF)

Join IALP to make a tangible impact on communication health worldwide by supporting the Membership Sponsorship Fund (MSF). Your partnership will help cover membership fees for individuals and affiliated societies in low and middle-resourced countries, amplifying their voices in the global conversation on speech, language, and hearing health.

Benefits

- Your contribution directly funds memberships for professionals and societies that may not otherwise be able to join
- Enable clinicians, educators, and researchers from resource-limited settings to connect and contribute to IALP's work
- Your brand will be highlighted across IALP's digital and event platforms, demonstrating your leadership in global health and equity

Your Impact

- €19 funds an individual membership from a low-resourced country
- €50 supports an individual membership from a middle-resourced country
- €100 funds an affiliated society's membership from low or middle-resourced countries

By sponsoring the MSF, you are not just supporting membership fees, you are investing in the global advancement of speech, language, and hearing health. The support covers one year membership.
